IN-HOUSE KNOW-HOW

Manufacturing interconnect components requires an understanding of product parameters in accordance with required specifications. Our benefit comes from in-house technology developed to address a wide array of requirements while maintaining rigorous standards. This means that our lead time, our prices, and our quality are all comparative advantages enjoyed by our clients.

PATENTED CREATIVITY

Preci-dip seeks to blend technology with innovation, which is also true for this preci-dip product line. In fact, creativity has produced our patented reverse clip technology and the patented Eagle Grip component.

Both are micro-innovations that contribute to extend the life of the defense-related instrument we help build.

Our motto has always been to accelerate innovation, to enhance the lustre of our products, and to improve client services for the most demanding of industries.
